HERVEY SWAYER

DIES SUDDENLY

Stroke Fatal To Employee Of Division Of Aid For Aged

Hervey Sweyer, 64, widely known Circleville resident, died unexpectedly at 9:30 a. m. Thursday in Berger Hospital where he was taken after he suffered a stroke an hour earlier.

Mr. Sweyer was driving his automobile to the office of the Division of Aid for the Aged, where he was employed as an investigator, when he was stricken as the car neared the Union and Court Street intersection. The car turned off the street and came to a stop against a utility pole at the Weaver residence corner, Mr. Sweyer being slumped over the steering wheel of the car when witnesses arrived.

The city's resuscitator was taken by firemen to the scene, but was not used. Fire Chief Palmer Wise said. Mr. Sweyer was taken to the hospital in an ambulance.

Mr. Sweyer had been a pension office investigator since May 2, 1939.

He had been in charge of the Foresman chimes in the courthouse tower, and for several years had sounded them on various occasions.

His survivors include his widow, Mrs. Jennie Leist Sweyer; a daughter, Annette, wife of Emmett Brown of Plain City, and two sons, Nelson, of Circleville, and Junior, of Lockland.

Funeral arrangements in charge of the Albaugh Co. have not been completed.

OHIOANS DIRECT FIGHT AGAINST CROP PENALTIES

Rep. Smith To Circulate Petition To Remove All Assessments

McGREGOR ALSO ACTS

House Approval Of Senate Amendment Would Permit Feeding Of Surplus

WASHINGTON, July 31—Rep. Smith (R) Ohio announced today he would circulate a petition among his colleagues to force House action on his bill to remove all penalties from wheat raised in excess of marketing quotas.

Smith's bill and similar ones designed to eliminate or reduce the 49-cent per bushel penalty now are pending in the House Agriculture Committee, but a spokesman for the committee said no hearings are scheduled before September.

"There is no evidence that the penalty is doing anyone a particle of good," Smith commented. "I'm going to fight to have all penalties removed."

He expressed confidence he would be able to obtain the 218 signatures of House members needed to force the bill out of committee within 10 days.

Meanwhile Rep. McGregor (R) Ohio, expressed confidence that the House would approve a Senate amendment to a wheat and cotton marketing bill which would permit farmers to feed excess grain to livestock and poultry.

Relief Immediate

"This amendment will give our farmers immediate relief, and I'm sure we have enough votes in the House to approve," McGregor declared.

ALEXANDRIA, LA., THREATENED BY UPTOWN BLAZE

ALEXANDRIA, La., July 31—A $100,000 fire which for a time threatened to engulf Alexandria's entire business district was brought under control early today after destroying one building and damaging adjoining structures.

Handicapped by a strong wind, firemen fought the blaze for more than two hours before it was subdued. A defective compressor unit in a drug store was blamed for the fire.

British Bombs Land On Five German Vessels In Waters Around Norway

LONDON, July 31—A German warship and four supply ships were damaged, the British admiralty announced today, when British naval aircraft carried out heavy bombing attacks on German-occupied strongholds in Scandinavia yesterday.

The announcement said the ships were damaged at Kirkenes on the northern Arctic coast of Norway, about 45 miles west of the Soviet Rybachy peninsula.

"Harbor works at Petsamo, Finland, also were attacked," the admiral communiqué said.

"The German warship Bremse was twice hit and four enemy planes were shot down. Sixteen British planes were lost."

"Anti-aircraft fire and fighter opposition were encountered at Petsamo, where jetties were hit and an oil tank and warehouse were set on fire. Great damage was done to port facilities."

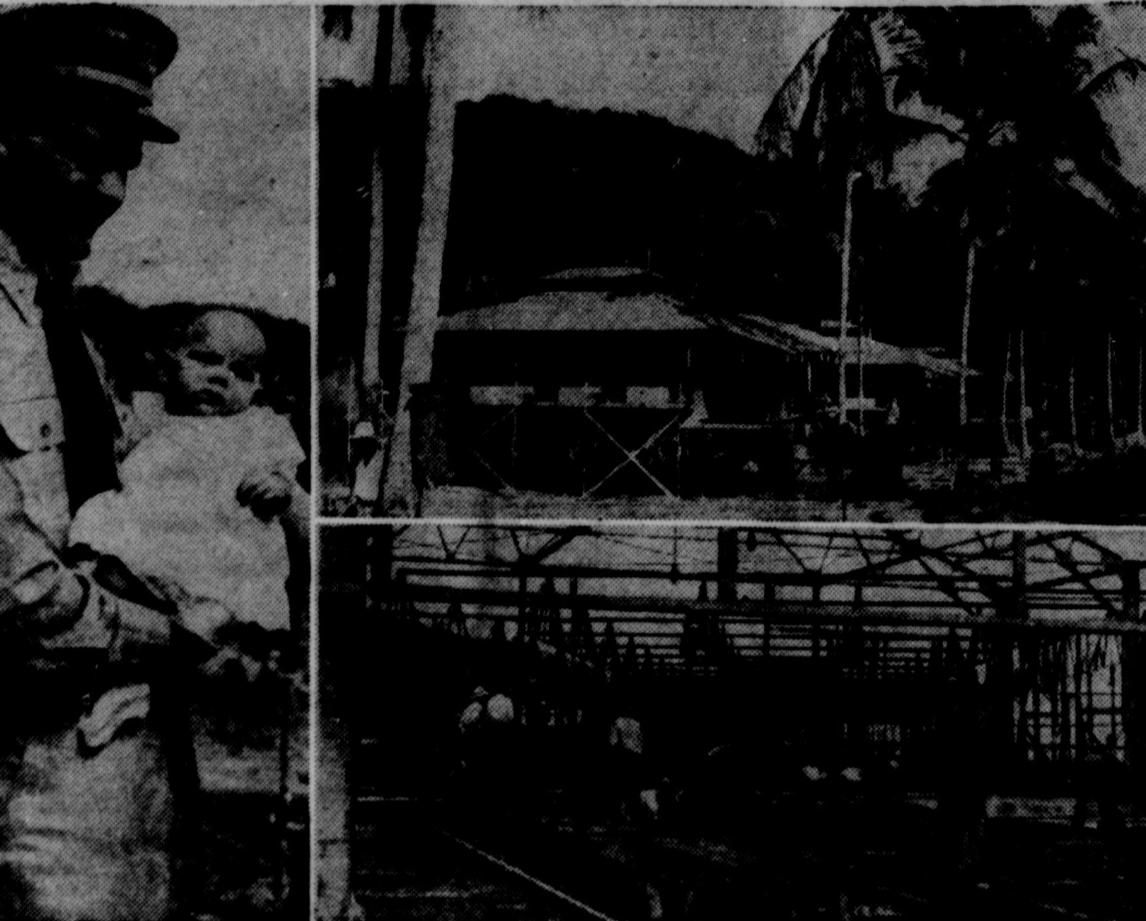

(Editor's Note: Jane's Fighting Ships lists the Bremse as a German gunnery training ship of 1, 460 tons, fitted for mine laying operations.)

(Berlin last night announced the defeat of a coordinated British-Soviet air attack on northern Norway and claimed 28 of the raiding planes had been shot down. The British planes, according to the German account,

More Showers May Aid In Relief from Heat

Cooling off in temperatures which dropped to 71 degrees early Thursday, Circleville and Pickaway County folk were hoping for additional showers to check the eight-day heat wave.

Showers late Wednesday cooled the air and added .45 inches rain to the month's previous total, which at two inches still is below normal.

Farmers and agricultural leaders report that crops, especially the corn, sweet corn, meadows and pastures need rain badly and that a steady 24-hour rain in most sections of the county would not be too much.

The shower Wednesday will help the pastures and most of the cornfields, farmers report, but some of the corn in loose sandy ground already has been burned by eight successive days of hot sun and dry weather.

Canning company officials report that unless rains come regularly, the sweet corn crop will be short this year, although the total acreage in the county exceeds that of last year.

Official high reading Wednesday was 98 degrees. The Scioto River is falling after being boosted Wednesday by showers north of Circleville. The barometer is steady, which may mean unsettled weather with more showers.

1941 PLANE PRODUCTION WILL TRIPLE '40 OUTPUT

LOS ANGELES, July 31—During the first six months of 1941 America's aircraft plants produced a total of 7,423 military planes to eclipse by more than 1,000 the entire warplane output for 1940, the Aeronautical Chamber of Commerce of America announced today.

Since July, 1940, when the National Defense program got under way, a total of 11,647 planes has rolled off assembly lines, the chamber reported.

June was the record month, with 1,476 military aircraft produced. Total production for the year is expected to reach close to 20,000 planes, tripling the 1940 record.

Government officials refuse to reveal how many planes have been sent to Great Britain and how many go to Uncle Sam.

Survivors include several nieces, Miss Elsie H. Jewell of Circleville, Miss Dorothy W. McArthur of Charleston, W. Va., and Mrs. Grace Whitney Whitman of Indianapolis.

The funeral will be Saturday at 2 p. m. at the Albaugh Co. Chapel, the Rev. Robert T. Kelsey officiating, with burial in Greenlawn Cemetery, Portsmouth. Friends may call at the funeral chapel after 8 p. m. Friday.

Miss Isabella Olive Whitney, 90, a native of Portsmouth but a resident of Circleville since the early 1900s, died Thursday at 7:27 a. m. at her home 203 West Mound Street, after a two year illness. She was born July 4, 1851, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William G. Whitney.

Miss Whitney was a member of the All Saints Church of Portsmouth.

Reports from the United Service Organization committee directed by Clark Hunsicker show that about $150 has been collected toward the fund.

TAFT PROVISION FOR YEAR, HALF SERVICE GAINS

Administration Predicts All Amendments To Extension Measure To Lose

EARLY VOTE EXPECTED

Ohioan Would Limit Size Of Peace-Time Army To 2,000,000

WASHINGTON, July 31—Backed by the non-interventionist bloc, the new Taft substitute for the administration's bill to extend the services of selectees indefinitely gained support in the Senate today.

The measure, sponsored by Sen. Taft (R) Ohio, increases the draftee training period from 12 to 18 months, and limits the size of the Army to 2,000,000 men in peace time. It also provides a bonus of $200 to each selectee, guardsman and reservist who enlists in the service at the end of his training period.

Although support for the Taft substitute is increasing, administration leaders predict its defeat along with all other attempts to modify or curtail the War Department's program for an army of unlimited size, and retention of trained draftees in service throughout the emergency.

Senate Democratic Leader Barley, who said the Senate may begin voting on amendments to the extended training bill today, predicted that the legislation will be passed in substantially its present form.

Other administration leaders said that the first day's desultory debate on the bill showed a lack of organized opposition. They coupled this with the non-interventionist's assertion that there will be no filibuster practices, and predicted a final vote by Saturday.

Sen. Wheeler (D) Mont., leader of the non-interventionists, warned however, that "there will be no final vote before next week." He said there are a number of senators on both sides of the issue "who want to speak at length."

May Write Amendment

The Montanan said the non-interventionists may attempt to write in a specific amendment preventing the use of troops outside the Western Hemisphere, and place a time limit on the entire program.

The administration bloc is confident of meeting the first so-called test of vote with success which is expected to come on an amendment by Sen. Downey (D) Calif., it provides that selectees who serve more than a year be given a $30 bonus in addition to their regular pay of $30, to be paid back as a rehabilitation fund at $30 a month at completion of their service.

Sen. Austin (R) Vt., who has consistently supported the President's foreign policy said that he would not oppose a time limitation to the program.

Sen. Gurney (R) S. D., however said he is considering an amendment (Continued on Page Four)

TOKYO "SORRY" ABOUT TUTUILA

Regrets Voiced To U. S. Ambassador Grew After Chungking Incident

TOKYO, July 31—United States Ambassador Joseph C. Grew called at the Japanese foreign office today and received apologies for the bombing of the United States gunboat Tutuila.

The Japanese government expressed deep "regret" over the incident, which occurred during an air raid on Chungking yesterday, when the Tutuila was damaged by bombs that fell into the Yangtze River only a few feet away.

Japanese Foreign Minister Teijiro Toyoda gave assurances that instructions had been sent out to the armed forces to make sure that United States property was not damaged.

In Washington acting Secretary of State Sumner Welles delivered a stern protest to Japanese Ambassador Nomura against the bombing of the Tutuila.

ELECTION BOARD FINDS PRIMARY ACTIVITY QUIET

Only Three Applications For Absentee Ballots Received To Date

DEADLINE IS AUGUST 8

Candidates Carry On Their Campaigns Without Any Fanfare

With August 8 the deadline for filing absentee ballots with the board of elections, Claude Kraft, clerk of the board, expressed belief Thursday that very few of the 120 men in military camps would vote in the Primary election August 12.

Only three applications for absentee ballots have been received, Clerk Kraft said.

Deadline for filing ballots will be 12 noon, August 8.

Activity in both political parties is unusually quiet for so near election, according to election board officials. No meetings have been scheduled by either the Republicans or the Democrats. Republican Chairman Tom Renick and Democratic Chairman Carl Leist report that activity is quiet within their respective parties.

WOMAN'S VISIT TO CINCINNATI PROVES COSTLY

CINCINNATI, July 31—This is the way the log of the Vandermark family of near Chillicothe, O., read today:

Mrs. Ruby Vandermark, 22—In Jail.

Lillian, 5, her daughter—In the Children's Home.

Rover, the family dog—In the dog pound.

Betsy, the family jalopy—In the police garage.

Papa, a WPA worker—At home.

It was yesterday that Mrs. Vandermark, with Lillian, Rover and Betsy, came to town and took a room.

She intended, she said, to do some shopping. On the way downtown she sideswiped a parked car and failed to stop. A witness overtook her and reported to police.

The police logged Mrs. Vandermark for leaving the scene of an accident. They took Lillian to the Children's home and Rover to the pound.

While Betsy was parked in front of the station, her left front tire (it was the humidity of course) blew out with a bang. And there was no spare.

Now Mrs. Vandermark does not pretend to be an accountant, but she is adding up (A) The cost of the trip; (B) its futility; (C) the damage to one Elmer Kink's 1941 car; (D) a new tire; and (E) what Mr. V will have to say.

CASE OF ERROR IN IDENTITY OF WOMAN IS FOUND

WEST PATERSON, N. J., July 31—Despite her "identification" by several close relatives and two friends as the victim of an apparent murder, Mrs. Myrtle Conklin Voorhees Headwell, 48, of Orange, was alive and well today.

And Prosecutor Arthur C. Dunn was right where he started—without a clue to the identity of the victim.

The body of an attractive woman, five feet, six inches tall and weighing about 125 pounds was found early Tuesday in a pipe line ditch in West Paterson.

Mrs. Headwell's mother, Mrs. Julia Everman, of Hackettstown, said the body was that of her daughter. So did Benjamin Everman, her stepfather. Mrs. Headwell's brother, Fred Conklin, of New Rochelle, N. Y., and two of her friends, Jacob Silverthrone, of Orange, and Dr. George Shepherdson of Newark, also made the identification.

The case apparently had been closed.

Dunn revealed that late yesterday state police in Netcong found Mrs. Headwell in that city, unaware of the report that she had been killed. She was taken to the prosecutor's office. Dunn explained that the strange case of mistaken identity was due to the fact that both Mrs. Headwell and the dead woman had crooks in their left arms, scars on the neck and

You can almost see the green in their eyes as Janie's (Ginger Rogers) three suitors in the swell RKO Radio comedy, "Tom, Dick and Harry," look at each other with that "wish you were far away" look. A delightful and provoking tale of a girl who loves three men and wants them all, "Tom, Dick and Harry" is Miss Rogers' first picture since "Kitty Foyle." The three candidates are, left to right: Harry, played by Burgess Meredith; Tom, played by George Murphy; and Dick, played by Alan Marshal. "Tom, Dick and Harry," the new sensational fun hit, will start Sunday at the Grand for a four day run.

ROYAL BROTHERS MAY MEET SOON ON CANADA SOIL

WINNIPEG, Man., July 31—Despite unofficial denial, rumors persisted in Winnipeg today that the Duke of Windsor may meet his younger brother, the Duke of Kent, somewhere in western Canada while Kent is on an inspection tour of air bases and other military establishments in the Dominion.

The Duke of Kent, it was announced, will arrive in Winnipeg Sunday evening by plane from Ottawa. Since his visit will be "purely business" in connection with advancement of Canada's air program, it was said, there will be no social functions in honor of the young duke during his western tour.

There was no comment from any official source regarding the report the two brothers of King George VI might have a Canadian reunion, but for some time the gossip in Winnipeg has been that Windsor hopes to spend a few weeks at his ranch near High River in southern Alberta, and Kent's itinerary includes that vicinity.

Kent, it was stated, will proceed from Winnipeg through to Vancouver, returning via Edmonton, Calgary, Medicine Hat, Regina and back to Winnipeg, remaining at each stop just long enough for his inspections and conferences with military officials.

Without Painful Backache

Many suffers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys.

The kidney is a gland that takes in the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

A disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood; it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up after a night's sleep more difficult, the usual headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubing to expel the wastes from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

POLICE WATCH FOR DISPUTES AT STEEL FIRM

Four Pickets Arrested
At Timken Plant
In Columbus

PRODUCTION CONTINUES

Dismissal Of Five Women
Blamed For Trouble
At Bearing Firm

COLUMBUS, July 31—Police today kept sharp lookout at the Columbus plant of the Timken Roller Bearing Company after they arrested four men, alleged pickets of a CIO steel workers strike at the plant.

Lt. Joseph Creek, who was said to have been struck in the head by a tomato hurled from a crowd estimated at several thousand milling around the gates of the plant asserted that "we cannot have anyone around here trying to start a riot." About 2,600 men are normally employed at the plant.

Police said Ralph McDonald, identified as secretary of the local S. W. O. C. union, suffered an injured foot when struck by a brick while near the foundry. Other bricks, police said, struck parked automobiles.

The strikers walked out of the plant at 4 p.m. yesterday in protest against dismissal of five women employees after a federal conciliator's efforts to effect a settlement failed. The plant holds vital national defense orders.

The management insisted work was proceeding. General Manager William A. Fowler, declaring all departments and all shifts were in operation, asserted "We will operate 24 hours a day." The company's plants at Canton, Wooster and Mt. Vernon were not affected by the walkout.

Four Identified

Police identified the four men arrested as Earl Strait, 43, a grinder; Charles Jenkins, 39, an inspector; Arthur Evans, 37, a machine operator, and Allen Beattie, 47, a grinder.

Strait and Beattie were charged with intoxication. No charges were filed against the others and they were soon released.

No estimate was given by either union or company officials as to the number of workers who walked off the job. Members of an independent union remained at their posts.

Union officials said they plan to confer with company representatives.

Ward Wolcott, S. W. O. C. sub-regional director, said he had talked with OPM officials in Pittsburgh shortly before the 4 p.m. deadline and was told "things had gone too far" and that they would be unable to avert the walkout.

The dismissed women were ousted, Wolcott said, because their work baskets were found to contain "mixed parts." He said the union was asking that the women be put back to work and paid for time lost.

THREE ATTACKS ON LENINGRAD REGION HALTED

Heavy Ground Fighting On
Three Fronts Admitted;
Successes Claimed

Stalin's message from President Roosevelt.

After meeting Stalin Hopkins declared he and the Soviet premier discussed the war situation. He added:

"On President Roosevelt's instructions I informed Stalin that our country considers those who fight against Hitler to be the right party in the present conflict and that we intend to render assistance to this party."

"Stalin expressed heartfelt appreciation for the President's offer of assistance and handed me a message for the President."

"I am going to see Stalin
several times before I leave Moscow."

"We discussed the situation
here in connection with the war against Germany. I informed Stalin that we follow with the greatest admiration the struggle waged by the Soviet Union in self-defense."

"We discussed problems of supply, including the type and quantity of materials. I cannot speak now about details or quantities."

"Stalin said he was certain that President and American people made no mistake in expressing confidence that the Soviet people would play their part in Hitler's collapse."

Questioned regarding payment for American war materials delivered to Russia, Hopkins said he was sure no difficulties would arise and no delay take place.

"Tonight I shall meet other representatives of the government and at noon tomorrow I shall see Stalin again."

Raid Repulsed

Only a few hours after Hopkins arrived in Moscow German planes attempted a night raid on the capital. An official announcement, however, said no German planes reached the city and that one was shot down. The communique added that Russian planes intercepting the Germans suffered no losses.

Several score German planes participated in the attempted attack but all were dispersed by anti-aircraft fire and night fighters far from Moscow itself, the announcement said.

A high command war communique told of continued heavy fighting along the front and declared a motorized German infantry regiment belonging to a special Storm Troop unit had been smashed on the Smolensk sector opposite the Russian capital.

Leningrad Nearly Taken, Says Berlin

Ukraine met further penetration
by German troops.

Military men declared the city
already is included in the Russo-German battle zone, with heavy German "big Berthas" already pounding Leningrad's defenses from the west and north.

In addition, it was claimed, Finnish forces moving against Leningrad are gaining ground and already have isolated the Soviet lines of retreat from Leningrad, including the important railway to Moscow, which has been cut during the last few days with the aid of systematic Luftwaffe attacks.

German authorities reiterated that the Soviet troops are continuing their dogged resistance, dying to the last man rather than surrendering—partly as a result of the influence of their political commissars.

In consequence, it was stated,
the anticipated German revelations regarding the battle will report heavy Soviet casualties as compared to the number of prisoners taken.

lican who died earlier today, as an close personal friend." The governor's brief statement said:

"Floyd Mees was an able member of the house, a close personal friend and, until his illness, did a fine job as chairman of the taxation committee of the house. He will be greatly missed. This is the first loss in the membership of

TAFT PROVISION FOR YEAR, HALF SERVICE GAINS

Administration Predicts All Amendments To Extension
Measure To Lose

ment which might limit the program to the length of the Selective Service Act which expires in 1945.

Sen. Vandenburg (R) Mich., charged in the opening debate that there is no specific limitation to the time draftees may be kept in service by the President's order.
The measure provides that se-lectees shall be discharged within six months after the President declares the emergency to be at an end.

Principal of the Taft substitute is favored by Sen. Adams
(D) Colo., who said "there ought to be some definite limitation on the length of service for the selectees, and the number of men that can be in training."

The bill's provision removing the restrictions against more than nine hundred thousand selectees, in training at any one time is unnecessary," Adams said, "because they haven't the facilities and equipment for training more than that now and won't have for some time."

As Senate administration leaders, confident that the bill will pass the upper body by a substantial majority, nevertheless kept an ear cocked toward the House where it is said that there is a possibility that it might be defeated outright, or drastically modified.

Although the House Military Affairs Committee approved a bill identical to the one being debated in the Senate by a 15 to 7 vote, there is strong sentiment in the lower chamber to continue the national guard and reservists in service indefinitely, but to limit the service of draftees to the one year period now provided by the Selective Service Act.

GAS STATIONS IN EAST TO BE CLOSED AT NIGHT

WASHINGTON, July 31—Oil Coordinator Harold L. Ickes today announced that the major petroleum companies have agreed to close down 100,000 gasoline stations on the Atlantic Seaboard at 7 p.m. nightly starting Sunday in an effort to avert a threatened oil shortage in the area.

Twelve state, portions of five others and the District of Columbia come under the agreement.
Ickes said.

The schedule calls for them to close at 7 nightly and not to reopen until 7 the following morning daily.

NEW TRIAL REQUESTED IN STATE ROAD CASE

RAY DAVIS, attorney for the Nannie W. Foresman interests in the easement action with the state highway department, filed motion
Thursday for a new trial.

In his motion, the attorney claims an error existed in the amount of the recovery and in various other matters relating to evidence introduced.

The Foresman interests Tuesday were granted $2,338 by a jury of 11 men and one woman. The total amount represented $338 for the 3.23 acres of land taken from the Foresman property for the construction of Route 22 across the land and $2,000 as compensation for damage to the remaining land.

During the case the jury heard testimony of 14 witnesses and deliberated slightly over two hours before announcing their decision.

GIRL LOSES BETRAYAL ACTION AGAINST CULT

LOS ANGELES, July 31—Nineteen-year-old Irma Weber today lost her million dollar damage suit against the Mazdaznan religious cult and one of its leaders,
Henry Sorge, when a Superior Court jury decided that she was not betrayed during a temple rite
when she was 11 years old.

The girl charged in her suit that she was attacked by Sorge during an outing of the cult at Norco, Cal., in 1933. She said that the late Otoman Zar-Adusha Ha'Nish, cult founder, supervised the act.

Sorge, 33, vehemently denied Miss Weber's charges from the witness stand.

BARTLETT ASKS ARRESTS TO AID GAMBLING PROBE

Prosecutor Ralph J. Bartlett of Franklin County, Thursday, issued an order for the arrest of Mrs. Jeanette Morris of Circleville, who is reported "missing" in the Franklin County Grand Jury's probe of gambling and "numbers house" operation.

Mrs. Morris has been booked by the Franklin prosecutor as missing since Monday when she was scheduled to appear for questioning by the jury. She has been cited twice in recent weeks in Franklin County for numbers operating and is expected to throw some light on the gambling investigation.

Bartlett announced that description of Mrs. Morris and other missing witnesses had been flashed over police and State Highway patrol radios with all officers being given orders to arrest any of the scheduled witnesses who have failed to report.

Many Columbus persons scheduled to go before the jurors cannot be located.

Bartlett said that efforts of the Pickaway County sheriff's office to locate Mrs. Morris had failed.
Deputies of Sheriff Charles Radcliff have visited the home, but have not been able to locate Mrs.
Morris.

The jury investigation was going on Thursday with various persons called to shed lights on the operation of gamblers in the capital city.

OHIO FUEL MUST SUPPLY NATURAL GAS, JUDGES SAY

COLUMBUS, July 31—The State Utilities Commission today ordered the Ohio Fuel Gas Co.
and six other subsidiaries of the Columbus Gas and Electric Co., to furnish only unadulterated natural gas to Ohio consumers after midnight August 14.

Two members of the commission joined in issuing an order in which the third member did not concur, directing the seven companies to cease and desist from the practice of furnishing adulterated or hybrid gas to consumers in this state after the date specified.

Commissioner Dennis Dunlavy walked from the meeting of the commission, charging that the majority's order was agreed on at a secret meeting which he was not invited to attend.

Dunlavy charged further that the order would necessitate the changing or adjustment of every gas burner fed by the lines of the affected companies.

Adulteration of natural gas was criticized by the Supreme Court last week when it upset the 56.22 cent gas rate for Columbus and directed the utilities commission to establish a new rate without considering the cost to the gas company of procuring manufacturer gas.

The shutdown will go into effect in Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Massachusetts, Connecticut, Rhode Island, New Jersey, Delaware, Maryland, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, the Peninsula of Florida, the District of Columbia, and all marketing areas in or east of the Appalachian mountains in New York, Pennsylvania, Virginia, and West Virginia, "and such additional marketing areas in said states where any substantial part of the motor fuel supplies is either produced or shipped into such areas from any point east."

Previously, the oil coordinator had requested the public to reduce consumption 33 1/3 percent on a voluntary basis but he said today that the public had not complied.

swallows come back to this army

Scores of swallows have built their nests on the edge of hangar doors.
Each evening, the doors must be closed, tumbling the nests and their eggs to the ground. Despite efforts to induce them to set up housekeeping elsewhere, the swallows stubbornly roost in trees during the night, and then return to rebuild their nests on the doors.

Merchants in Circleville, in county villages and in crossroads stores have purchased stamps in total value of $48,618.22, almost $4,000 ahead of 1940's total to this date of $44,788.93.

The week ending July 19, the last one for which the state treasurer has the county's report, shows sales of $1,772.47, more than $400 ahead of the same week a year ago.

The trend is general in Ohio, Treasurer Don Ebright reporting total collections from sales tax in the state to be $32,714,668.28, compared with $25,994,977.25 a year ago. The week ending July 19 put $1,124,483.84 into the treasurer, considerably more than the $836,123.53 received a year ago.

Pickaway's collection of $1,772.47 for the July 19 week is ahead of Meigs, Monroe, Morgan, Morrow, Noble, Paulding, Preble, Putnam, Union, Vinton, Wyandot, Adams, Brown, Carroll, Gallia, Geauga, Highland, Hocking and Holmes.

For the year to date, Pickaway is ahead of Holmes, Hocking, Harrison, Geauga, Gallia, Brown, Adams, Vinton, Pike, Perry, Paulding, Noble, Morrow, Morgan, Monroe and Meigs.

Collections in counties of Central Ohio for the week total:

Feller tried for the third time last night under the lights of Griffith Stadium to nail that 20th victory, but wound up neither winning nor losing the verdict as the Senators rallied in the last of the ninth to win, 7-6.

Slightly, erratic Feller and the Redskins trailed 5-4 going into the final frame. Feller gave way to a pinch hitter with one out, and the pinch-hitter — Weatherly — singled. Boudreau also singled and Weatherly went to second. Campbell singled, scoring Weatherly with the tying run.

Sundra, who had replaced Zubor in the second, was relieved by Carasquel, who immediately allowed Walker to single, scooping Boudreau and putting the Tribe in front, 6-5.

The Nats came right back. Having replaced Feller and walked West, Case also walked, stole second and scored on Cramer's double. Eisenstat replacing Hoving, and after Lewis walked, Travis doubled and it was all over. Hoving was charged with the defeat.

Southpaw Al Milner, who hadn't started a game in two weeks, was to be given another chance today, with Sid Hudson, the Nats' young right-hander, opposing him.

Soose, third big favorite in as many nights to be upset, was defeated on a unanimous decision of the judges and referee at Madison Square Garden.

POLICE START WORK FRIDAY UNDER NEW HOUR SCHEDULE

CHIEF McCRADY ISSUES ORDER TO PATROLMEN

Force To Be Undermanned, But State Law Will Be Followed In City

LEVY OF IMPORTANCE

Additional Funds For New Men Needed To Operate Efficiently

City police, Friday, will begin work under the new eight-hour-a-day schedule, Police Chief William McCraday said Thursday.

Chief McCrady said that he believed schedule had been worked out whereby the police force could operate under the new eight-hour setup until after the Primary election.

The new police schedule will comply with the state law effective August 1, which makes it illegal for a municipality to employ men in public service more than eight hours in any 24. The law makes it mandatory that municipalities abide by the ruling or be subject to penalties for evasion. The police chief said that although the new setup would leave the police force considerably understaffed, the department would have to get along until after the Primary election.

In a previous announcement Safety Director Karl Herrmann left the question of operating under the new setup up to the chief of police and the council. He said "If the Chief of Police feels it's duty to issue such an order and the members of the police department put the eight-hour law into effect it will be up to council to solve the police protection problem of the city with additional funds for patrolmen."

Levy Proposed

At the Primary election August 12, council is proposing a 1½ mill levy to provide funds to operate the city departments for the next two years. The levy requires a 65 percent majority for passage, and although revenue from the levy cannot be collected before the December tax collection, city officials maintain that if the issue passes they may issue anticipatory notes on the amount expected and thus run the city until the collection is made.

Auditor Lillian Young has reported that the general fund is low and that if the levy fails city bills may go unpaid and city employees go without salaries.

A three mill operating levy placed before the voters at the general election last year failed to pass, leaving the city in financial distress from which it has not recovered.

THREE MORMON CHURCH DELEGATES VISIT CITY

Three representatives of the Mormon Church, Salt Lake City, Utah, were visitors in Circleville Wednesday calling on persons who had visited in the Utah city in the last several years.

They were Thomas Leffler of San Francisco, David E. Tanner of Ogden, Utah, and Morgan Hanks of Burley, Idaho.

The three are included in a group of 2,200 representatives of the church who are touring the United States, North and South America and the Hawaiian Islands in the interest of their church. The tour arranged for the 2,200 delegates will cover two years, with the youths paying all their own expenses.

Calls were made at several Circleville homes. No collecting is done by the youths, their expense money coming from their parents back home.

$15,000 TURKEY RUN JOB ENDS NEAR RINGGOLD

County Engineer Henry McCraday, Thursday, announced completion of the $15,000 Turkey Run Bridge project on Road 43 in Walnut Township. The bridge, which lies directly north of Ringgold, is the second largest in the county which is under county supervision. The Island Road bridge over the Scioto River is the largest.

Work began on the project last March 13, and since that time between 20 and 50 WPA employees have been working on the two abutments. The steel truss superstructure was erected by the Canton Bridge Company, Canton.

The new bridge is 78.56 feet long with a 20 foot roadway, six feet wider than previously. The abutments have been faced with 18 inches of concrete and new wings 28½ feet high have been constructed on each end of the abutments.

The south end of the bridge has been raised 18 inches and the north end lowered 6 inches to provide a natural grade and eliminate a grade hazard which road officials previously had considered dangerous. The grade is 2.54 percent, engineers' officials said.

Completion of the Turkey Run project released about 25 WPA workers to the road construction work in Madison Township on County Road 8, where officials said they would be assigned to bridge repair work.

RUSSIA SAYS GERMAN AIR RAIDS FAIL

THREE ATTACKS ON LENINGRAD REGION HALTED

Heavy Ground Fighting On Three Fronts Admitted; Successes Claimed

F. D.'s Emissary Gives Note To Stalin; Assistance Of U. S. Pledged

MOSCOW, July 31—Heavy fighting during the night in the defense zones protecting Leningrad, Moscow and Kiev was announced today by the Russian high command, which also stated that three new Nazi air attacks on Leningrad had been beaten back.

The latest war communiqué said fighting continued throughout the night in the Palkov, Novorozhev, Smolensk and Zhitomir sectors of the front.

"In other directions there were no important engagements," the communiqué said.

"On Wednesday enemy planes three times attempted to raid Leningrad. All were beaten off by anti-aircraft batteries and fighters."

Earlier new Russian successes at the front and failure of another Luftwaffe attempt to raid Moscow were announced.

Interest, meanwhile, centered in the visit to Moscow of Harry Hopkins, coordinator of President Roosevelt's lease-lend program.

Hopkins continued his conferences with Soviet officials today after giving the Soviet government new assurances that material aid would be forthcoming from the United States.

Message from Roosevelt

The American official, who reached Moscow after a dramatic and unheralded flight from Britain, conferred last night with Premier Josef Stalin, concentrating particularly on problems of supply. Hopkins also handed

Leningrad Nearly Taken, Says Berlin

BERLIN, July 31—Annihilation of seven Soviet divisions recently trapped on the Northern Front—presumably the Leningrad sector—was announced officially in Berlin today.

Thousands of Russian soldiers were captured in this operation, German authorities claimed, and "huge" quantities of Soviet war materials were seized.

The booty included 50 field guns, 23 anti-tank guns and seven anti-aircraft batteries, according to the announcement, which stated 68 machine guns and 78 trucks also were captured.

Announcement of this victory came as German military authorities declared Leningrad, once capital of the Russian Czars and now strategic Soviet industrial center, is "bound to fall" into German hands.

Other forces operating from Estonia, an official communiqué stated, "drove back the enemy in a northerly direction" while German bombers blasted Moscow as well as a Russian railway junction at Orel.

New successes also were reported in the south where the statement said Russian forces in the

OHIOANS DIRECT FIGHT AGAINST CROP PENALTIES

Rep. Smith To Circulate Petition To Remove All Assessments

McGREGOR ALSO ACTS

House Approval Of Senate Amendment Would Permit Feeding Of Surplus

WASHINGTON, July 31—Rep. Smith (R) Ohio announced today he would circulate a petition among his colleagues to force House action on his bill to remove all penalties from wheat raised in excess of marketing quotas.

Smith's bill and similar ones designed to eliminate or reduce the 49-cent per bushel penalty now are pending in the House Agriculture Committee, but a spokesman for the committee said no hearings are scheduled before September.

"There is no evidence that the penalty is doing anyone a particle of good," Smith commented. "I'm going to fight to have all penalties removed."

He expressed confidence he would be able to obtain the 218 signatures of House members needed to force the bill out of committee within 10 days.

Meanwhile Rep. McGregor (R) Ohio, expressed confidence that the House would approve a Senate amendment to a wheat and cotton marketing bill which would permit farmers to feed excess grain to livestock and poultry.

Relief Immediate

"This amendment will give our farmers immediate relief, and I'm sure we have enough votes in the House to approve," McGregor declared.

The amendment was passed in the Senate by a vote of 34 to 23, despite contentions by opponents that such a provision would "destroy the present farm act."

The feeding provision was attached to a bill designed to increase wheat and cotton prices by

ALEXANDRIA, LA., THREATENED BY UPTOWN BLAZE

ALEXANDRIA, La., July 31—A $100,000 fire which for a time threatened to engulf Alexandria's entire business district was brought under control early today after destroying one building and damaging adjoining structures.

Handicapped by a strong wind, firemen fought the blaze for more than two hours before it was subdued. A defective compressor unit in a drug store was blamed for the fire.

British Bombs Land On Five German Vessels In Waters Around Norway

LONDON, July 31—A German warship and four supply ships were damaged, the British admiralty announced today, when British naval aircraft carried out heavy bombing attacks on German-occupied strongholds in Scandinavia yesterday.

The announcement said the ships were damaged at Kirkenes on the northern Arctic coast of Norway, about 45 miles west of the Soviet Rybachy peninsula.

"Harbor works at Petsamo, Finland, also were attacked," the admiralty communiqué said.

"The German warship Bremse was twice hit and four enemy planes were shot down. Sixteen British planes were lost.

"Anti-aircraft fire and fighter opposition were encountered at Petsamo, where jetties were hit and an oil tank and warehouse were set on fire. Great damage was done to port facilities."

More Showers May Aid In Relief from Heat

Cooling off in temperatures which dropped to 71 degrees early Thursday, Circleville and Pickaway County folk were hoping for additional showers to check the eight-day heat wave.

Showers late Wednesday cooled the air and added .45 inches rain to the month's previous total, which at two inches still is below normal.

Farmers and agricultural leaders report that crops, especially the corn, sweet corn, meadows and pastures need rain badly and that a steady 24-hour rain in most sections of the county would not be too much.

The shower Wednesday will help the pastures and most of the corn-fields, farmers report, but some of the corn in loose sandy ground already has been burned by eight successive days of hot sun and dry weather.

Japanese Foreign Minister Teijiro Toyoda gave assurances that instructions had been sent out to the armed forces to make sure that United States property was not damaged.

In Washington acting Secretary of State Sumner Welles delivered a stern protest to Japanese Ambassador Nomura against the bombing of the Tutuila.

TAFT PROVISION FOR YEAR, HALF SERVICE GAINS

Administration Predicts All Amendments To Extension Measure To Lose

EARLY VOTE EXPECTED

Ohioan Would Limit Size Of Peace-Time Army To 2,000,000

WASHINGTON, July 31—Backed by the non-interventionist bloc, the new Taft substitute for the administration's bill to extend the services of selectees indefinitely gained support in the Senate today.

The measure, sponsored by Sen. Taft (R) Ohio, increases the draftee training period from 12 to 18 months, and limits the size of the Army to 2,000,000 men in peace time. It also provides a bonus of $200 to each selectee, guardsman and reservist who enlists in the service at the end of his training period.

Although support for the Taft substitute is increasing, administration leaders predict its defeat along with all other attempts to modify or curtail the War Department's program for an army of unlimited size, and retention of trained draftees in service throughout the emergency.

Senate Democratic Leader Barkley, who said the Senate may begin voting on amendments to the extended training bill today, predicted that the legislation will be passed in substantially its present form.

Other administration leaders said that the first day's desultory debate on the bill showed a lack of organized opposition. They coupled this with the non-intervention bloc's assertion that there will be no filibuster practices, and predicted a final vote by Saturday.

Sen. Wheeler (D) Mont., leader of the non-interventionists, warned however, that "there will be no final vote before next week." He said there are a number of senators on both sides of the issue "who want to speak at length."

May Write Amendment

The Montanan said the non-interventionists may attempt to write in a specific amendment preventing the use of troops outside the Western Hemisphere, and place a time limit on the entire program.

The administration bloc is confident of meeting the first so-called test of vote with success which is expected to come on an amendment by Sen. Downey (D) Calif., it provides that selectees who serve more than a year be given a $30 bonus in addition to their regular pay of $30, to be paid back as a rehabilitation fund at $30 a month at completion of their service.

Sen. Austin (R) Vt., who has consistently supported the President's foreign policy said that he would not oppose a time limitation to the program.

Sen. Gurney (R) S. D., however said he is considering an amendment

DEADLINE IS AUGUST 8

Candidates Carry On Their Campaigns Without Any Fanfare

With August 8 the deadline for filing absentee ballots with the board of elections, Claude Kraft, clerk of the board, expressed belief Thursday that very few of the 120 men in military camps would vote in the Primary election August 12.

Only three applications for absentee ballots have been received, Clerk Kraft said.

Deadline for filing ballots will be 12 noon, August 8.

Activity in both political parties is unusually quiet for so near election, according to election board officials. No meetings have been scheduled by either the Republicans or the Democrats. Republican Chairman Tom Renick and Democratic Chairman Carl Leist report that activity is quiet within their respective parties.

WOMAN'S VISIT TO CINCINNATI PROVES COSTLY

CINCINNATI, July 31—This is the way the log of the Vandemark family of near Chillicothe, O., read today:

Mrs. Ruby Vandemark, 22—In jail.

Lillian, 5, her daughter—In the Children's Home.

Rover, the family dog—In the dog pound.

Betsy, the family jalopy—In the police garage.

Papa, a WPA worker—At home.

It was yesterday that Mrs. Vandemark, with Lillian, Rover and Betsy, came to town and took a room.

She intended, she said, to do some shopping. On the way downtown she sideswiped a parked car and failed to stop. A witness overtook her and reported to police.

The police logged Mrs. Vandemark for leaving the scene of an accident. They took Lillian to the Children's home and Rover to the pound.

While Betsy was parked in front of the station, her left front tire (it was the humidity of course) blew out with a bang. And there was no spare.

Now Mrs. Vandemark does not pretend to be an accountant, but she is adding up (A) The cost of the trip; (B) its futility; (C) the damage to one Elmer Kinker's 1941 car; (D) a new tire; and (E) what Mr. V will have to say.

ROYAL BROTHERS MAY MEET SOON ON CANADA SOIL

WINNIPEG, Man., July 31—Despite unofficial denial, rumors persisted in Winnipeg today that the Duke of Windsor may meet his younger brother, the Duke of Kent, somewhere in western Canada while Kent is on an inspection tour of air bases and other military establishments in the Dominion.

The Duke of Kent, it was announced, will arrive in Winnipeg Sunday evening by plane from Ottawa. Since his visit will be "purely business" in connection with advancement of Canada's air training program, it was said, there will be no social functions in honor of the young duke during his western tour.

There was no comment from any official source regarding the report the two brothers of King George VI might have a Canadian reunion, but for some time the gossip in Winnipeg has been that Windsor hopes to spend a few weeks at his ranch near High River in southern Alberta, and Kent's itinerary includes that vicinity.

Kent, it was stated, will proceed from Winnipeg through to Vancouver, returning via Edmonton, Calgary, Medicine Hat, Red Deer and back to Winnipeg, remaining at each stop just long enough for his inspections and conferences with military officials.

CASE OF ERROR IN IDENTITY OF WOMAN IS FOUND

WEST PATERSON, N. J., July 31—Despite her "identification" by several close relatives and two friends as the victim of an apparent murder, Mrs. Myrtle Conklin Voorhees Headwell, 43, of Orange, was alive and well today.

And Prosecutor Arthur C. Dunn was right where he started—without a clue to the identity of the victim.

The body of an attractive woman, five feet, six inches tall and weighing about 125 pounds, was found early Tuesday in a pipe line ditch in West Paterson.

Mrs. Headwell's mother, Mrs. Julia Everman, of Hackettstown, said the body was that of her daughter. So did Benjamin Everman, her stepfather. Mrs. Headwell's brother, Fred Conklin, of New Rochelle, N. Y., and two of her friends, Jacob Silverthrone, of Orange, and Dr. George Shepherdson of Newark, also made the "identification."

The case apparently had been closed.

But—

Dunn revealed that late yesterday state police in Netcong found Mrs. Headwell in that city, unaware of the report that she had been killed. She was taken to the prosecutor's office, Dunn explained that the strange case of mistaken identity was due to the fact that both Mrs. Headwell and the dead woman had crooks in their left arms, scars on the neck and

Blamed For Trouble
At Bearing Firm

COLUMBUS, July 31—Police today kept sharp lookout at the Columbus plant of the Timken Roller Bearing Company after they arrested four men, alleged pickets of a CIO steel workers strike at the plant.

Lt. Joseph Creek, who was said to have been struck in the head by a tomato hurled from a crowd estimated at several thousand milling around the gates of the plant asserted that "we cannot have anyone around here trying to start a riot." About 2,600 men are normally employed at the plant.

Police said Ralph McDonald, identified as secretary of the local S. W. O. C. union, suffered an injured foot when struck by a brick while near the foundry. Other bricks, police said, struck parked automobiles.

The strikers walked out of the plant at 4 p. m. yesterday in protest against dismissal of five women employees after a federal conciliator's efforts to effect a settlement failed. The plant holds vital national defense orders.

The management insisted work was proceeding. General Manager William A. Fowler, declaring all departments and all shifts were in operation, asserted "We will operate 24 hours a day." The company's plants at Canton, Wooster and Mt. Vernon were not affected by the walkout.

Four Identified

Police identified the four men arrested as Earl Strait, 43, a grinder; Charles Jenkins, 39, an inspector; Arthur Evans, 37, a machine operator, and Allen Beattie, 47, a grinder.

Strait and Beattie were charged with intoxication. No charges were filed against the others and they were soon released.

No estimate was given by either union or company officials as to the number of workers who walked off the job. Members of an independent union remained at their posts.

Union officials said they plan to confer with company representatives.

Ward Wolcott, S. W. O. C. sub-regional director, said he had talked with OPM officials in Pittsburgh shortly before the 4 p. m. deadline and was told "things had gone too far" and that they would be unable to avert the walkout.

The dismissed women were ousted, Wolcott said, because their work baskets were found to contain "mixed parts." He said the union was asking that the women be put back to work and paid for time lost.

UNITED WE STAND

This is a review of a recent book, "United We Stand," by Hanson W. Baldwin, published by Whittlesey House. Mr. Baldwin not only graduated 17 years ago from the United States Military Academy, but is the military and naval staff writer of the New York Times, leading interventionist newspaper. It can scarcely be supposed, therefore, that he is pro-Nazi, pro-Jap or anything but a pro-American. Nevertheless, his book will receive little praise from the Fighters for Freedom, France Forever, Finland Forever and Ever, to say nothing of Iraq Immortal, and Ethiopia Everlasting.

What follows are exact quotations from Mr. Baldwin's text. But you should read the book itself.

"We are not indebted to the British fleet for protection in the past; we do not have to depend upon that fleet for protection in the future."

"If we enter the war we cannot limit our effort to equipment to ships, to fighting planes . . .

Eventually, if we enter this war and we must face this fact, calmly, for it is part of the decision we must make), our dead will lie again in Europe's soil. The Unknown Soldier will find new comrades."

"There is . . . a clearer, more certain reason why we must not, cannot now participate in this war. That reason is manifest in the untabulated sampling of public opinion in every state in the union. The American people do not want to go to war. There is not only no enthusiasm for war; there is at least a large and positive minority, if not a majority, against our participation."

"Our navy today is probably capable of meeting in its own waters the present combined fleets of Germany, Italy, Russia, and Japan . . ."

"Our own fleet, a tactical, unified whole, fighting in close proximity to its own bases, able to shift rapidly from ocean to ocean by the interior line of the Panama Canal, aided by shore-based aircraft would have an insuperable advantage over a conglomeration of ships operating thousands of miles from bases and constantly subject to air and submarine attack . . ."

"Colonel Lindbergh, as all military observers know, was perfectly correct when he said that the United States could not be invaded by air."

"Now could parachute troops or soldiers transported by planes conquer a continent. Planes with 34,000 pound pay loads, like our clippers, might carry from twenty to forty soldiers, but they would be suicide detachments, useful for sabotage but for little else . . ."

"Although it is not correct to term anything impossible, a direct invasion of the United States from Europe or Asia within the next ten years is as close to a military impossibility as anything can be . . ."

"The defense of Britain is to our interest, but the defense of Britain is not necessarily synonymous with the defense of America. It may or may not be vital. The supremely difficult problem of determining what is vital to our interests now and in the future is complicated by democratic processes, by the difficulty of se-

Heavy Ground Fighting On
Three Fronts Admitted;

Stalin's message from President Roosevelt.

After meeting Stalin Hopkins declared he and the Soviet premier discussed the war situation. He added:

"On President Roosevelt's instructions I informed Stalin that our country considers those who fight against Hitler to be the right party in the present conflict and that we intend to render assistance to this party."

"Stalin expressed heartfelt appreciation for the President's offer of assistance and handed me a message for the President."

"I am going to see Stalin several times before I leave Moscow."

"We discussed the situation here in connection with the war against Germany. I informed Stalin that we follow with the greatest admiration the struggle waged by the Soviet Union in self-defense."

"We discussed problems of supply, including the type and quantity of materials. I cannot speak now about details or quantities."

"Stalin said he was certain that President and American people made no mistake in expressing confidence that the Soviet people would play their part in Hitler's collapse."

Questioned regarding payment for American war materials delivered to Russia, Hopkins said he was sure no difficulties would arise and no delay take place.

"Tonight I shall meet other representatives of the government and at noon tomorrow I shall see Stalin again."

Raid Repulsed

Only a few hours after Hopkins arrived in Moscow German planes attempted a night raid on the capital. An official announcement, however, said no German planes reached the city and that one was shot down. The communiqué added that Russian planes intercepting the Germans suffered no losses.

Several score German planes participated in the attempted attack but all were dispersed by anti-aircraft fire and night fighters far from Moscow itself, the announcement said.

A high command war communiqué told of continued heavy fighting along the front and declared a motorized German infantry regiment belonging to a special Storm Troop unit had been smashed on the Smolensk sector opposite the Russian capital.

Leningrad Nearly Taken, Says Berlin

Ukraine met further penetration by German troops.

Military men declared the city already is included in the Russo-German battle zone, with heavy German "big Berthas" already pounding Leningrad's defenses from the west and north.

In addition, it was claimed, Finnish forces moving against Leningrad are gaining ground and already have isolated the Soviet lines of retreat from Leningrad, including the important railway to Moscow, which has been cut during the last few days with the aid of systematic Luftwaffe attacks.

German authorities reiterated that the Soviet troops are continuing their dogged resistance, dying to the last man rather than surrendering—partly as a result of the influence of their political commissars.

In consequence, it was stated, the anticipated German revelations regarding the battle will report heavy Soviet casualties as compared to the number of prisoners taken.

COLUMBUS, July 31—Governor Bricker today lauded Rep. Floyd Mees, Meigs County Republican who died earlier today, as an "able member of the house and a close personal friend." The governor's brief statement said:

"Floyd Mees was an able member of the house, a close personal friend and, until his illness, did a fine job as chairman of the taxation committee of the house. He will be greatly missed. This is the first loss in the membership of the legislature during this term."

BARTLETT ASKS ARRESTS TO AID GAMBLING PROBE

Prosecutor Ralph J. Bartlett, of Franklin County, Thursday, issued an order for the arrest of Mrs. Jeannette Morris of Circleville, who is reported "missing" in the Franklin County Grand Jury's probe of gambling and "numbers house" operation.

Mrs. Morris has been booked by the Franklin prosecutor as missing since Monday when she was scheduled to appear for questioning by the jury. She has been cited twice in recent weeks in Franklin County for numbers operating and is expected to throw some light on the gambling investigation.

Bartlett announced that description of Mrs. Morris and other missing witnesses had been flashed over police and State Highway patrol radios with all officers being given orders to arrest any of the scheduled witnesses who have failed to report.

Many Columbus persons scheduled to go before the jurors cannot be located.

Bartlett said that efforts of the Pickaway County sheriff's office to locate Mrs. Morris had failed. Deputies of Sheriff Charles Radcliff have visited the home, but have not been able to locate Mrs. Morris.

The jury investigation was going on Thursday with various persons called to shed lights on the operation of gamblers in the capital city.

OHIO FUEL MUST SUPPLY NATURAL GAS, JUDGES SAY

COLUMBUS, July 31—The State Utilities Commission today ordered the Ohio Fuel Gas Co., and six other subsidiaries of the Columbus Gas and Electric Co., to furnish only unadulterated natural gas to Ohio consumers after midnight August 14.

Two members of the commission joined in issuing an order in which the third member did not concur, directing the seven companies to cease and desist from the practice of furnishing adulterated or hybrid gas to consumers in this state after the date specified.

Commissioner Dennis Dunlavy walked from the meeting of the commission, charging that the majority's order was agreed on at a secret meeting which he was not invited to attend.

Dunlavy charged further that the order would necessitate the changing or adjustment of every gas burner fed by the lines of the affected companies.

Adulteration of natural gas was criticized by the Supreme Court last week when it upset the 56.2 cent gas rate for Columbus and directed the utilities commission to establish a new rate without considering the cost to the gas company of procuring manufacturer gas.

The shutdown will go into effect in Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Massachusetts, Connecticut, Rhode Island, New Jersey, Delaware, Maryland, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, the Peninsula of Florida, the District of Columbia, and all marketing areas in or east of the Appalachian mountains in New York, Pennsylvania, Virginia, and West Virginia, and such additional marketing areas in said states where any substantial part of the motor fuel supplies is either produced or shipped into such areas from any point east.

Previously, the oil coordinator had requested the public to reduce consumption 33 1/3 percent on a voluntary basis but he said today that the public had not complied.

GIRL LOSES BETRAYAL ACTION AGAINST CULT

LOS ANGELES, July 31—Nineteen-year-old Irma Weber today lost her million dollar damage suit against the Mazdazan religious cult and one of its leaders, Henry Sorge, when a Superior Court jury decided that she was not betrayed during a temple rite when she was 11 years old.

The girl charged in her suit that she was attacked by Sorge during an outing of the cult at Norco, Cal., in 1933. She said that the late Otoman Zar-Adushti Ha'Nish, cult founder, supervised the act.

Sorge, 33, vehemently denied Miss Weber's charges from the witness stand.

TAX OUTLOOK

THE biggest tax bill in the history of the United States will soon be polished off and presented to the American people. It is expected to bring in $3,500,000,000 revenue for defense.

Changes in the individual income tax will raise more than a billion of new revenue.
And almost everybody will chip in his contribution, a bigger one than he ever made before.

The familiar exemptions will be there—$2,000 for married taxpayers, $800 for single ones, $400 for each dependent. The changes which produce the higher taxes are found in the surtax features. Last year's tax of $44 on a net income of $2,000 for a single person will jump to $110 next year. And the $3,000 net income of a married person, that was free from tax last year, will have to pay $11 next.

This, says Chairman Doughton of the House Ways and Means Committee, is only the beginning. He believes another revenue bill will have to follow this one next year. He foresees lowering of all exemptions on income taxes plus some kind of general sales tax.

These things are not pleasant to contemplate, but if they help to accomplish the defense job we have to do they will not be exorbitant. The American people, a public official has said, will cheerfully pay this huge bill. He is right. But they will expect efficiency in its use and reduction of unnecessary public spending until the emergency is over.

BUSINESS WITH HITLER

SEVEN private citizens of prominence and probity have spent their own money to advertise a book. None of them know the author or have anything to do with the publisher. The citizens are Raymond Clapper, John Kieran, Albert D. Lasker, Mrs. Dwight L. Morrow, Carl Van Doren, Matthew Woll and Wendell L. Willkie. The book is "You Can't Do Business with Hitler" by Douglas Miller.

The reasons stated in the book are briefly that Hitler and his gang keep no treaties. The citizenry under them are trained for war, not peace. They believe that Germans should rule and all other peoples should be their slaves. There can be no freedom of trade between one country
and another which is trying to enslave it.
In short, there can be no business with Hitler.

Editorial columns of newspapers are not often used to advertise anything. The curious and unsolicited ad which appeared in certain large newspapers is mentioned here because it seems as if it might be a good idea to look into the book which inspired it. This broadcast might turn out to be, in the words of the radio companies,
"made as a public service."

Daily Washington Merry-Go-Round

BY DREW PEARSON AND ROBERT S. ALLEN

WALLACE ONCE A PACIFIST

WASHINGTON—When the Vice President of the United States gets off the train to make his speech at the opening of the new powder factory at Burlington, Iowa, today, it is significant that he will get off at a little station just outside of Burlington called Middleton.

There is nothing much at Middleton except a couple of freight cars, a few houses and a station sign. It is a typical country cross-road flag stop.

Yet suddenly, out of the flat Iowa prairies a new industry has come to Middleton, an industry as foreign to the corn belt as the philosophy of Henry Wallace is to war.

All of which is indicative of what is going on both in the heart of the Middle West and in the heart of Henry Wallace.

In the last war, munitions plants hugged the Atlantic seaboard. A few cities away from the coast, Pittsburgh, Detroit and Chicago, got a sprinkling of munitions orders, but no one ever dreamed of locating defense factories in Omaha, Tulsa, or Ft. Worth.

But now the USA is confronted with bombing planes capable of flying 5,000, even 7,000 miles, and so the Middle West has become like the Ural Mountains of Russia, and everyone knows that the more munitions plants Stalin has placed behind the Urals, the better are Russia's chances.

Just as great changes have taken place in the strategic location of munitions plants, so great changes have taken place in the mind of Henry Wallace. War, even national defense, always has been anathema to him. He could see no reason for building an army and navy, regarded them as destructive institutions.

Then last winter he went to Mexico, and came back a changed man. The United States, he began to feel for perhaps the first time, could be in real danger of invasion. The Middle West no longer was made impregnable by geographic luck. An invasion by air from South America via Mexico, was by no means an impossibility.

So Henry Wallace, the Iowa farm boy who returns to the soil of Iowa today, will be speaking his own heartfelt convictions when he tells mid-west farmers that the time has come to beat their plowshares into swords.

FDR AND PAPPY

The hairbreadth victory of Governor Lee ("Pass the biscuits, Pappy") O'Daniel in the Texas senatorial election was a tough blow to President Roosevelt, who openly espoused his young Congressional lieutenant, 32-year-old Lyndon Johnson.

It also was a tough blow to eloquent Senator Tom Connally, who, while publicly protesting his neutrality, was plugging for Attorney General Gerald Mann of Texas, No. 3 in the race.

With the race over, the President is resigned to O'Daniel's election, but Connally is still a bit miffed by the failure of his candidate. He voiced this disappointment when he accompanied a group of congressional leaders to the White House for a legislative conference.

Spotted Connally, the President inquired cheerily.

"Tom, when is Pappy coming to town?

'ROUND CIRCLEVILLE ... Hour by Hour

Pages From the Diary of An Antiquated Reporter:

Up to find the world still awry and getting no better fast.
Nothing of encouragement in the morning prints. So many goofy questions arise in the average man's mind. For instance:

Why do we continue to sell oil and munitions to Japan when Japan uses them against our friend China and to threaten all our interests in the Far East?
Personally, I think the Japs have gone much too far already,
and for my part the heat can be turned on them any time. They need a real good slapping around and are heading right for it. The Japs can not conquer an unarmed China, yet they indicate willingness to fight the United States, England, the Dutch and Reds all at once. A lot of bluff, it seems to me, and a bluff that should be called without the least hesitation. It might be best to take a leaf from the book of Hitler and subdue the Japs when we have nothing else on our minds.

Certainly we don't want to be combing them out of our hair
when we move into the European mess.

There it was on my desk, a big aluminum covered kettle decorated with condensation that indicated a cold interior.
"For you," announced my visitor.
Up came the top and there lay twenty blue-gills cleaned and packed in ice. Fine ones.
Up went questioning eyes, and the answer was not long in coming. Caught shortly after sunrise in Buckeye lake, the full limit.

Then I took a kidding. Was asked why, when conditions permit, I travel hundreds of miles into the Northland to catch fish when the water teems with them at Custer Point.
"Maybe not so thrilling as catching big Northerns," said my visitor, "but still plenty of thrill in dragging in a 22 pound turtle, a 16 pound carp, a six pound catfish and some fine bass along with blue-gills and crappies. Yes, Mr. Scrivener," said the visiting young squirt of seventy-three years, "to be out on the lake, even though it is only our little old Buckeye, early in the morning when day

is just breaking, the fog lifting and the sun coming into view, and the surface of the water is like a mirror, is a beautiful sight. All is quiet except the puttering of an occasional outboard as an angler heads for his favorite fishing spot. The real sentiment of the old saying creeps right into your heart,
that one about 'Peace on earth,
good will toward men.' If that could only be universally true.
If all men were only early morning fishermen."

Great fish, those bluegills.
Had them for lunch and enjoyed them no end. Who was the fisherman? Well, I'm not telling.
He refused to grant permission for use of his name.

Brain of Man Asserts His Superiority

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

Just why is man superior to the lower animals? The answer is apparently very pat. Because of his brain. There is no question that he has more and better brains than his ancestors.

The earliest man, the Java man, had a brain of 855 c.c.m. The Piltdown man had a brain of 1300 c.c.m. The average modern man has a brain of 1400 to 1500 c.c.m.

Dr. Clendening will answer questions of general interest only, and then only through his column.

But the mere question of weight and size is not sufficient to explain the differences to which I refer. Some anthropologists do not believe that brain weight is a necessary index to brain capacity. There are differences in the sizes of the different parts of the brain between man and the lower animals.

It will not do to say that man is superior to the brutes because his brain thinks. That is only a superficial reply. The brain needs material to think with just as much as a loom needs threads to weave cloth. What is the material? Professor Eliot Smith believes that it lies on the sensory side—that, particularly, binocular vision raises man above the beasts. A bird, a horse, probably a dog, sees only with one eye directly in front of that eye—it cannot grasp distance, perspective, the stereoscopic view of binocular vision—it is flat.

Dr. Tilney's Theory

Dr. Frederick Tilney, the great comparative anatomist, believes, on the other hand, that man's brain is superior because he possesses neokinesthesia—a new potentiality to make movements.

"From first to last," he says, "it has been the achievements of his hands which have carried man onward from the time when he began to work with the simplest of stone implements."

With the development of all the motor tracts and masses of gray nuclei which constitute the connnections necessary for the fine coordinate movements of the hand, the impulses which come to consciousness from these sources make up an entirely different brain, an entirely different mind from that of any other animal.

Dog Talks with His Tail

A dog, for instance, makes most of the movements, expressive of emotions with his tail; he waves it happily in greeting and hangs it dejectedly in sickness and sorrow. All his emotional movements are tail movements. And of a consequence his entire world is completely different from that of a tailless animal. So that clever, deft, quick instrument, the hand, which its owner is able to move so accurately as to pluck a mote from the point of a needle—this, according to Dr. Tilney, has lifted us above the lower animals.

POLICE START WORK FRIDAY UNDER NEW HOUR SCHEDULE

CHIEF M'CRAKY ISSUES ORDER TO PATROLMEN

Force To Be Undermanned, But State Law Will Be Followed In City

LEVY OF IMPORTANCE

Additional Funds For New Men Needed To Operate Efficiently

City police, Friday, will begin work under the new eight-hour a day schedule, Police Chief William McCrady said Thursday.

Chief McCrady said that he believed a schedule had been worked out whereby the police force could operate under the new eight-hour setup until after the Primary election.

The new police schedule will comply with the state law effective August 1, which makes it illegal for a municipality to employ men in public service more than eight hours in any 24. The law makes it mandatory that municipalities abide by the ruling or be subject to penalties for evasion. The police chief said that although the new setup would leave the police force considerably understaffed, the department would have to get along until after the Primary election.

In a previous announcement Safety Director Karl Herrmann left the question of operating under the new setup up to the chief of police and the council. He said "If the Chief of Police feels it his duty to issue such an order and the members of the police department put the eight-hour law into effect it will be up to council to solve the police protection problem of the city with additional funds for patrolmen."

Levy Proposed

At the Primary election August 12, council is proposing a 1½ mill levy to provide funds to operate the city departments for the next two years. The levy requires a 65 percent majority for passage, and although revenue from the levy cannot be collected before the December tax collection, city officials maintain that if the issue passes they may issue anticipatory notes on the amount expected and thus run the city until the collection is made.

Auditor Lillian Young has reported that the general fund is low and that if the levy fails city bills may go unpaid and city employees go without salaries.

A three mill operating levy placed before the voters at the general election last year failed to pass, leaving the city in financial distress from which it has not recovered.

THREE MORMON CHURCH DELEGATES VISIT CITY

Three representatives of the Mormon Church, Salt Lake City, Utah, were visitors in Circleville Wednesday calling on persons who had visited in the Utah city in the last several years.

They were Thomas Leffler of San Francisco, David E. Tanner of Ogden, Utah, and Morgan Hanks of Burley, Idaho.

The three are included in a group of 2,200 representatives of the church who are touring the United States, North and South America and the Hawaiian Islands in the interest of their church. The tour arranged for the 2,200 delegates will cover two years, with the youths paying all their own expenses.

Calls were made at several Circleville homes. No collecting is done by the youths, their expense money coming from their parents back home.

STRANGE BEDFELLOWS

There is one matter that is not on the agenda of the AFL building executive council meeting in Chicago this week, but about which labor chiefs are very curious.

This is the sensational inside word that William ("Big Bill") Hutchinson, boss of the carpenters, has been secretly pow-wowing with the man he once slugged in a spectacular Atlantic City fist fight—John L. Lewis.

Just why Lewis and Hutchinson have put their heads together is a mystery. But strangely suspected in a Lewis scheme to spring a surprise "peace" move with the AFL.

The AFLers are for peace, but not one that would enable Lewis to make himself the master of a united labor movement. This is exactly what he believed to have up his sleeve.

The AFL chiefs recall very vividly Lewis' answer to Secretary Frances Perkins when she urged him several years ago to use his powerful influence to bring the AFL and CIO together.

"I will bring peace to labor," he rumbled. "When it suits my purpose to have peace."

Privately, AFL leaders make no bones that they are very leery of a John L. Lewis festooned with olive branches. They don't trust him and want no part of him in any guise.

KNOWN FACTS

Known facts about the Lewis-Hutchinson get-together are the following:

"Big Bill" made the first overture in a telegram congratulating Lewis on his radio broadcast boltting to Wendell Willkie. Before that, for six years, they had been bitter enemies, although once close AFL and GOP pals. As late as 1932, Lewis and Hutchinson went down the line together for Hoover against Roosevelt.

The NRA, with its famed Section 7a, rescued the United Mine Workers from the scrap heap, switched Lewis to the New Deal. Turning on his old AFL buddies, and after swapping blows with Hutchinson at the Atlantic City convention, Lewis set up the CIO with the backing of Sidney Hillman and his independent Amalgamated Clothing Workers. Raging with vengeance, Hutchinson led the movement that expelled Lewis from the AFL as a wrecker.

For six years their feud flamed.

In 1936, Lewis went all-out for Roosevelt, and Hutchinson did the same for Landon as chairman of the GOP Labor Campaign Committee. Then in 1940, they suddenly became friends again through their common hatred of Roosevelt.

Lewis answered Hutchinson's telegram with a cordial letter.

This was followed several months later by a secret meeting in New York. They have had at least one other, more recently.

It is definitely known that at this meeting the re-united pals exchanged notes on their common hatred, "that man in the White House," and also discussed AFL-CIO peace.

Note: It has not yet been announced, but the CIO convention will be held in October in either Detroit or Cleveland. With Phil Murray in a hospital recuperating from a heart attack and barred by his doctors from any activity for several months, Lewis' "palace guard" has quietly started rigging the machinery to ensure his control of the convention.

The AFLers are for peace, but not one that would enable Lewis to make himself the master of a united labor movement. This is exactly what he believed to have up his sleeve.

The AFL chiefs recall very vividly Lewis' answer to Secretary Frances Perkins when she urged him several years ago to use his powerful influence to bring the AFL and CIO together.
